NEW RATES, NEW US, NEW YOU!

Park View Fitness offers all-inclusive membership at low price

MUNDELEIN, IL —Changes are coming to Mundelein Park District’s Park View Health & Fitness. A new, streamlined membership structure offering a simple all-inclusive membership is a big step toward being a better value for fitness members. Starting September 1, membership will cost $31 per month and offers more bang for your buck by including unlimited group exercise classes (over 40 classes available), unlimited use of the fitness center, indoor pool, indoor track and open gym. Additional benefits include special pricing on personal training by nationally certified personal trainers, towel service, locker rooms & showers, plus child care is available most mornings and afternoons for a reasonable rate ($10 monthly per child) while you exercise.

“Our new membership rate is our first step towards many new changes coming to the Park View Fitness Center over the next few months. We really felt like we needed to streamline our membership so that it is a little easier to understand what you are paying and not have to feel like there's an added fee for this and that. We have so many amenities and are excited to give our members more value than in the past," said Matt LaPorte, Mundelein Park District's Superintendent of Recreation.

"By going with an all-inclusive approach to membership, it's more customer-friendly and encourages members and guests to use the whole facility. Everyone can take a class, swim, lift weights, walk the track or participate in open gym for an affordable rate. We are happy to offer one price, $31 for membership, and not have to charge an additional fee to use the pool or a standard group exercise class."

Membership costs are an even better value when you add additional family members to your membership. Two or more people cost $25 monthly per person. Plus there is a 10% discount for Military (active and retired), seniors (62+) and youth (12 – 17 years old). All memberships require a 12 month commitment. Of course, if getting a membership is too much of a commitment, a daily rate and 10 visit punch card is offered.

Also planned before the end of the year is the purchase of new fitness equipment and cosmetic changes within the facility. "It's time to upgrade our cardio equipment to the latest technology and we are going through the final stages of selecting that. We are also looking to arrange our fitness center to create a better flow and make it more welcoming to members," added LaPorte. The Community Center will also undergo some changes, "We are working with a designer to refresh the building and modernize it. The building has gone through several starts of a remodel and it's time to tie it all together. It's gotten a little disjointed. With our new design plan, modern equipment and value added pricing, we are headed toward a new direction that we are excited to have the community come check it out."

Park View Health & Fitness is located at 1401 N. Midlothian Road in Mundelein. For more information, visit mundeleinparks.org or call 847.388.5430.
